

Plagiarism Procedure

In the Department of English, the Department Chair makes final decisions about cases of suspected plagiarism. Instructors (TFs, lecturers, or full-time faculty) who suspect that a student may have plagiarized should gather all relevant evidence, compose a memo outlining a recommended penalty, and deliver this material to the Chair. Instructors should deliver the required material within five class days of discovering the possible plagiarism.