14. What have you liked most about this course and why?

MS. Aguirre provides a fresh and challenging approach to 1303. She maintains an aura of respect all the while a sense of dominance. I feel she is a talented instructor who will do great in her career as a professor well after receiving her doctorate.

15. What have you liked least about this course and why?

The books are very standard and typical, challenging yet ordinary. It just seems like a very general course when it comes to the literature.

16. Other comments and suggestions.

Very preparing class for Human Situation and a great diving board into the Honors College standards especially with MS. Aguirre teaching.

I like most about this class how when ever we have a class discussion we all get to put our opinions and thoughts in. We do not just sit in class and have to listen (which is boring) to the teacher.

15. What have you liked least about this course and why?

I did not like some of the text "Emma" that we had to read. It was very boring and in my opinion not relevant.

III. COMMENTS/SUGGESTIONS

14. What have you liked most about this course and why?

The class left open room for debate on contents of reading. We had freedom to develop our own thesis for essays and were graded on the strength of our argument vs. arguing a certain way.

15. What have you liked least about this course and why?

Certain selections of literature I found rather a struggle to get through more from personal taste than a fault of the course.

16. Other comments and suggestions.

Give a wider selection of literature maybe something more modern, possibly choose Shelley or Stoker over Austen.
