

CLASSFALL 2024

LIVED HINDU RELIGION

What to expect?

In this course, we will begin by addressing how the study of religion from the lens of lived religion is essential to understanding and appreciating the nuances of what many believe to be the world's oldest and newest religion, which is Hinduism. In other words, we will delve into the historical and conceptual introduction to Hinduism, i.e. from ancient and classical forms in addition to their modern manifestations, including forms these traditions take in the United States.

Course Information:

Course: RELS 2340 (15200)

Mode: Online, Asynchronous

Contact Information:

Dr. Sravana Borkataky-Varma
sborkataky-varma@uh.edu

