

Psycho Philes

University of Houston Department of Psychology
A Newsletter for Faculty, Students, and Staff

Issue 98:10

November 1998

Reminders

 Nov 18: Faculty meeting, 3:00 pm, room 135 Heyne.

 Nov 25: Deadline for submitting signed original and copies of thesis and dissertation for binding.

 Nov 26-27: UH closed in observance of Thanksgiving holiday.

 Dec 5: Last day of classes.

 Dec 9-17: Final examination period.

 Dec 16: Faculty meeting, 3:00 pm, room 135 Heyne.

News and Notes

❖ Travel and Purchasing Reminders--how quickly they forget

From the Academic Office

Fulltime Status for Graduate Students

Get to Know . . .

Here's more of the "dirty" on our new graduates

Veronica Lozano--Veronica is a UH graduate and a student in the clinical neuro track studying under Dr. Kevin Krull investigating the neurophysiological correlates of attention in different pediatric populations. Veronica's other academic interests include traumatic brain injury and the long-term effects of different disorders on neuro-cognitive functioning. Veronica says that she loves neuropsychology and has worked with children with different disorders as well as with adult dementia patients. Her non-academic interests include travelling across the country by care (a'la Jack Kerouac style), walking for fitness, and spending time with friends and family, especially her nieces and nephews.

Steve Richins-- Steve is a first year I/O Psychology student. He recently moved to Houston from the Dallas area (Frisco) with my his wife, Cindi and my two kids, Zach, 8 and Hailey, 5. Steve graduated from Austin College - a small liberal arts college in Sherman, Texas, in the fall of 1997 (go Roos!) with a double major in Psychology and Philosophy, summa cum laude with honors in Psychology. Steve says that he always expected to pursue some sort of professional career in philosophy, but "I came to realize rather early that "philosophy" and "professional career" are mutually exclusive concepts. So, I decided to look into psychology, and my business experience gave me an obvious lean toward Industrial & Organizational. However, I have not forgotten my roots and am still (& always) wrestling with those ultimate unanswerable deep philosophical questions like: what is the meaning of life, does anything really exist, and will I survive my Foundations of I/O course?" Steve looks forward to the many challenges and opportunities grad school will undoubtedly provide and is hoping the experience doesn't make him too cynical.

Tim Yerington--Tim is a clinical student in the child and family tract working with Dr. Julia Babcock studying domestically violent men. His research interests focus around marital interactions, and he would like to study homosexual relationships. Outside of school, Tim is happily married and enjoys going out with friends. Tim graduated from George Mason University in Fairfax, VA.

Psycho Philes is published monthly. Submissions should be sent to Mani Kuffel at mkuffel@bayou.uh.edu, or directed to the business office. All submissions are subject to editing for space and content.

What's New In Research

PUBLICATIONS, PRESENTATIONS, & WORKSHOPS

Adams,

Correction: In the October Psycho Philes, it was incorrectly reported that Joan M. Glaman received her Masters degree. Joan, in fact, completed her doctorate. Her dissertation title was "Competitiveness And The Similarity-Attraction Effect Among Co-Workers".

Perceived Similarity, Power, And Role Negotiation Behavior, I/O

