GSC News

The Graduate Student Council is proud to welcome our new members. The first GSC meeting will be from 3-4 PM on Thursday, October 21st in the GIF conference room. All are welcome to attend.

Dear GSC members:

I am delighted to welcome our new Co-Chairpersons Mark Morris and Nancy Olson. Along with Oscar Cabrera (Developmental Rep.), Steve Richins and Jason Etchegaray (I/O Reps.), Amy McQueen and Valerie Bussell (Social Reps) and Jennifer Adams and Alexis Llewellyn (Clinical Reps), they will comprise our new GSC for the academic year 1999-2000. These new and continuing members will replace Jim Bridges (Clinical Rep.), Anika Gakovic (IO rep.), Aimee James (Social Rep.), Laurie Smith (Dev. Rep.), and myself. I was indeed fortunate to have worked with such a dynamic and dedicated group of members who found time in their busy schedules as teaching fellows and assts., students and research assts., to work towards representing the needs of all graduate students. As a result, graduate students have for the first time:

- * A 24 hour computer lab (we will no longer be kicked out at 5 PM!)
- * 2 phones for our exclusive use
- * A graduate student lounge for our informal needs
- * A graduate student conference room for our teaching and research needs along with filing cabinets
- * Lockers for securing our valuables
- * A GSC Web page
- * Standardized forms for recruiting experimental participants
- * Regular information updates channeled through Psychophiles and listserve

In addition, we furthered an atmosphere of trust and cooperation among dept. administrators, faculty and graduate students enabling us to represent our needs at faculty and educational committee meetings during a time of great changes in departmental structure and facilities.

All this was possible because we worked as a team and established a foundation for future GSCs by creating the very first official GSC constitution now framed and hung in the GIF. Now all graduate students can know what to expect from their representatives. I have every confidence that the new GSC will continue the great strides taken by the former council as they work toward bringing in speakers and establishing valuable cooperative relationships with other departments in the social sciences.

During the past 12 months, I have enjoyed working with GSC members and yes, found GSC work a rewarding and worthwhile experience. So please join me in congratulating our new GSC representatives as we extend a big thank you to our outgoing members.

Aruni Nanayakkara
GSC Chairperson, 1998 -1999

On September 24, 1999, Dr. Lynn P. Rehm was the featured speaker for the Houston Psychological Association's monthly luncheon meeting. The topic was "The Future of Psychology" and he discussed the implications of changing technologies for psychological practice.
