

TO ALL STUDENTS INTERESTED IN A GRADUATE ASSISTANTSHIP

If you are interested in applying for a Teaching or Research Assistantship, please carefully read and complete the attached forms. The Department of Sociology awards a number of one-semester Assistantships to incoming and current graduate students each year. For international students, we offer stipends for the full year contingent on continued successful academic and assistantship performance.

New students should be aware that Assistantships can not be awarded until acceptance into the Graduate School and Department of Sociology is official. To assure yourself of early consideration, it is strongly advised that this form be sent to the Department of Sociology when you apply to the Graduate school.

Students are encouraged to send a sample of their academic work with this application. In addition, and please note the requirement on the Teaching Assistantship Application form, below, three letters of recommendation from persons familiar with the applicant's academic work are required.

Please return the completed forms to:
