¹TEXES Exam Pass Rates are downloaded from the Accountability System for Educator Preparation Programs (ASEP), Texas Education Agency. This table shows the overall pass rate for both initial-licensure programs and advanced-level programs across year.

²Test Takers are finishers of the reporting year who have ever taken the TEXES exam by August 31 of the reporting year during Year 2015, 2016, and 2017. For example, in AY 2016-17, 424 finishers among all of the AY 2016-17 finishers have taken the TEXES exams by August 31, 2017. The pass rate of the 424 test takers was 96% by August 31, 2017. From Year of 2018, test takers are not only the finishers of the reporting year but also the other enrolled students in that year.

³The pass rate requirements for accreditation are changing beginning in AY 2017-18. While you can see testing data through the ASEP system, at this writing the ASEP system is not set up to differentiate between PPR and content tests, or to generate a pass rate for candidates admitted after 12/27/2016 on their first two attempts at a test. In AY 2017-18, 93% of 255 teacher candidates passed their content tests on their first two attempts.
