

Please join the College of Education Department of
CURRICULUM AND INSTRUCTION

for an Information Session regarding the Ph.D. in Curriculum and Instruction.

The Houston metropolitan area, with over 1.5 million K-12 students, is the perfect urban education laboratory of practice for our Ph.D. students. We are now welcoming the best and brightest local, national, and international students into our Ph.D. program in Curriculum and Instruction.

At our information session, you will have the opportunity to meet faculty members and admissions staff and ask questions about curriculum, career services, student life, financial aid, and admissions requirements.

November 19th, 6 p.m.
KIVA, Farish Hall
Parking available in Lot 13A
