Emergency Access to Information Systems:

If access to departments information and systems is essential to the departments' operations in an emergency, briefly describe the emergency access plan below. This may include remote access (or authorization to allow remote access), contacting IT support, Blackboard, off-site data backup, backup files on flash drives, hard copies, or mobile device storage. All data must be protected in Accordance with SAM 07.A.08, Data Classification and Protection. Identify what critical data and records are backed up, whether the backup is stored on-site or off-site. Simulate a failure scenario that tests the ability to recover “lost” critical data. Describe how your department will respond to the destruction of critical data. If telecommuting is an option for one or more of your staff, include the specifics to ensure compliance.

Approval for Non-Essential Personnel:

While some functions and research are not considered essential and in need of 24 hour monitoring and or care, they do require some sort of attention or action after a 48 to 72 hour period of time. Some individuals may not be essential personnel but may need to make contact with their labs or offices during a campus closure. Those areas will be required to seek approval through their appropriate Dean or Director and then through their appropriate Vice President to gain access to campus and or their facility during an emergency incident involving a closure of campus.

A listing of non-essential personnel needing to gain access to campus during a campus closure after the immediate life safety threat has passed must be included on the Essential/Non Essential Personnel Listing. The listing allows departments the opportunity to list the employees that will need to gain access to campus during a campus closure after the immediate life safety threat has passed.

Please note that the individuals on the listing have been approved to gain access to their building or facility by the appropriate Vice President only if they are listed on their respective College or Division Continuity of Operations Plan.
