The Family Medical Leave Act (FMLA) requires covered employers to provide up to 12 weeks (up to 26 weeks for military caregiver leave) of unpaid, job-protected leave to “eligible” employees for certain family and medical reasons. Employees are eligible if they have worked for a covered employer for at least one year, and for 1,250 hours over the previous 12 months, and if there are at least 50 employees within 75 miles.

ADVANCE NOTICE AND MEDICAL CERTIFICATION

The employee may be required to provide advance leave notice and medical certification. FMLA leave will be denied if the requirements are not met.

- The employee must provide 30 days’ notice when the leave is “foreseeable”
- The University of Houston requires medical certification to support a request for leave because of a serious health condition, may require a second or third opinion (at the university’s expense), and requires certification of fitness to return to work.

JOB BENEFITS AND PROTECTION

For the duration of FMLA leave, the University of Houston must allow the employee to maintain the employee’s health coverage under any “group health plan”.

- Upon return from FMLA leave, most employees must be restored to their original or equivalent positions with equivalent pay, benefits, and other employment terms.
- The use of FMLA leave cannot result in the loss of any employment benefit that accrued prior to the start of an employee’s leave.

ENFORCEMENT

- The U.S. Department of Labor is authorized to investigate and resolve complaints of violations.
- An eligible employee may bring a civil action against the employer for violations.
- FMLA does not affect any Federal or State law prohibiting discrimination, or supersede any State or local law or collective.

FML Employee Responsibilities

1. It is the immediate responsibility of the employee to inform their departments that they are applying for FML including what dates they anticipate being out on FML.
2. Be aware the FML process is a 15 day/2.5 week period that will be denied if the certification is not received.
3. FMLA leave will run concurrently with paid leave (employees will be required to exhaust any paid leave to which they may be entitled i.e. sick, vacation or personal leave).
4. Once you are out on FML, you must contact your department/supervisor at least once a week during the duration of your leave.
5. Provide an email that you check regularly as this will be the communication method for HR when sending you any FML notifications including approval or denial.
6. If you are on FML and are in an unpaid status, it is your responsibility to pay your premiums to ERS directly or you will lose those benefits.
