Join the Honors College in traveling to Jordan in Summer 2023, to see how humanitarian aid workers are addressing the Syrian refugee crisis. This unique service-abroad opportunity will immerse students in the purpose, mission, and workings of a large-scale humanitarian healthcare agency aiding refugee populations fleeing from war and violence.

Students will commit to six weeks of service at the Jordan Health Aid Society international (JHASi) in Amman, Jordan.

Weekend and cultural excursions will include Petra, the Dead Sea, Jarash, Ajloun Castle, Madaba, the Roman Amphitheatre, the Citadel, local cooking classes, and more. Please check back frequently for ongoing updates to the itinerary.

The associated course counts toward the Medicine & Society, Global Engagement & Research, and Leadership Studies minors.
