SPEND YOUR SUMMER SWIMMING IN DATA

HUMANA INSTITUTE SUMMER DATATHON

Spend two weeks working with curated datasets and learning how to rapidly generate ideas that can change our community! At the end of the program compete in the shark tank to see which idea rises to the top.

Topics:

- Leveraging technology to revolutionize mental health treatments
- Novel ways to slow the spread of HIV/STDs
- Rethinking Mobile Clinics: New ways to deliver care where people are
- Innovative strategies to address the healthcare worker shortage
- Confronting health misinformation: Perspectives from the next generation of healthcare leaders

The winning team will receive a total of $2500 towards a regional/national conference registration. Each participant will also receive $1000 at the successful completion of the program.
