Wudu Renovation Feasibility Study

SFAC FY24 Additional One-Time Request (a)
A.D. Bruce Religion Center

Wudu Renovation Feasibility Study – AD Bruce Religion Center

This request is part one of a renovation request for the 2nd floor Wudu in A.D. Bruce Religion Center in collaboration with UH Student Government Association.

Wudu (Ablution) is an Arabic which means the specific action of washing certain body parts. In these body parts hands, mouth, face, arms, nostrils, arms, and feet included. In religion Islam, wudu has great importance. Muslims are required to perform wudu before offering the prayer five times a day.

Every Muslim performs wudu (ablution) before offering prayers. It is a simple, certain and obligatory pattern of washing one’s body parts with which they start their prayers.

Years ago, a Wudu room was installed in A.D. Bruce Religion Center, but the current room does not fully accommodate the needs of the ablution process. The room also only accommodates one person at a time. There is not a separate space for men and women to perform ablution in privacy.

Note: This does not include construction, and is only the cost for assessment.

A/E consultant is proposing to break down the A. D. Bruce Religion Feasibility Study into 2 tasks. This work would be performed as follows:

General (Project Management)

- Develop and maintain project schedule.
- Facilitate interaction with individual user groups on UH campus and AECOM design team.
- Issue monthly invoice for rendered services.

Task 1. Preliminary Report (2 weeks + 2 weeks UH Review)

- Code review and documentation
- Facilitate and attend kick-off meeting with project stakeholders.
- Review UH provided documents – as-built drawings.
- Visit proposed project site to evaluate existing curtain wall.
- Review collected data and determined required architectural and structural modifications for the existing space.
- Facilitate and participate in preliminary programming report review meeting (virtual)

Deliverables:
