XI. COURSE BIBLIOGRAPHY

GROUP PRESENTATION - EXPLORATION OF CLINICAL PRACTICE WITH SPECIFIC GROUPS/PRACTICE ARENA

OBJECTIVE
This assignment is intended to give students the opportunity to demonstrate their acquired clinical knowledge and skills for practical application of a contextualized, strengths-based practice approach to a specific client group and practice arena.

TASK
Based on shared interests, students will form groups of 4 to 5 persons. Students will identify a specific client group and practice arena for exploration of clinical practice. (Example: exploring clinical social work practice in mental health outpatient settings with older adults experiencing depression) Once an area of study has been decided, the group will initiate research to develop a contextualized strengths based approach with the selected group and setting. This will require application and integration of key concepts, theories and perspectives addressed in this course.

FORMAT:
Develop a PowerPoint presentation which will serve as the outline for your presentation by displaying key points. The presentation should last approximately 45 minutes. All sources/references should be cited in APA format. Each group member must play an active role in completing research, developing content, and in presenting. The presentation should address the following--

1. Introduction / Description – provide an objective and comprehensive introduction to the group and setting explored. This may include prevalence statistics, data of interest and relevance, history/background, applicable key concepts and definitions.

2. Contextualized Strengths Based Practice & Cultural Competency – Using key concepts, terms, and theories from course readings/textbooks and independent research, describe relevant and applicable contextual and cultural aspects of the selected group or issues.

3. Strengths Perspective – Using key concepts, terms, and theories from course readings/textbooks and independent research, apply the strengths perspective to social work practice with the selected group and setting.

4. Empirical Evidence and/or Studies – Briefly present findings from 3 empirical studies of clinical social work practice with the selected group or clinical interventions proven effective in addressing the selected issue. Implications for clinical social work practice should be included in this section.

5. References – The presentation should include discussion of at least ten scholarly references related to the selected topic area and APA format should be used in citations.

Note: Students may send their power point presentation (in PDF format) to the Professor for uploading to blackboard vista at least 24 hours prior to class or handouts of the presentation can be distributed to class at the time of presentation.
EVALUATION
This assignment is worth 25% of the overall course grade and will be evaluated based on the following criteria:

1. Clarity, organization, and overall quality of the presentation (3 points)
2. Content addresses all 5 requested areas; information provided in each section is appropriate, comprehensive, and relevant to that section; and all sources are cited according to APA format (15 points)
3. Demonstration of critical thinking skills, the integration of course content, and the ability to collect necessary data to complete the assignment (5 points)
4. Supplemental information, beyond what is required, that enhances the overall quality of the presentation (2 points)

DUE DATE
See course outline for scheduled group presentation dates.

ARTICLE ANALYSIS

OBJECTIVE
The purpose of this assignment is to help students demonstrate their ability to critically analyze a scholarly and/or research article and apply the content to the contextualized strengths based practice approach in social work.

TASKS:
Students will select an article from a list provided by the Professor. (Articles will be posted on blackboard vista.) Selected articles focus on one of the following aspects of the course:

1. Contextual practice and the strengths based perspective;
2. Effects of power and inequity; and/or social political and economic contexts on social work practice;
3. Self-awareness and/or professional development in clinical social work practice;
4. Cultural competence in clinical social work practice.

Students will complete a meaningful analysis of the article using the following as a guide:

1. Introduce and briefly describe the article and state its purpose;
2. Summarize the key points emphasized in this article;
3. Provide a critical analysis of the approach/model/research discussed in the article (specifically stating if you find the source to be useful; if yes, how and why? If not, why not, and how might it be improved?)
4. Identify the social work implications of the article—how does this article relate to contextualized strengths based practice in social work; where would this information be valuable in terms of settings, social work practice arena, social work practitioners.

FORMAT
This assignment should be typed in 12 point font, double spaced, and with 1 inch margins. A cover page (student name, course title, professor name, and date) should accompany the assignment. APA format should be followed for preparation of the paper and references. Paper should be a maximum length of 7 pages, includes cover page and references.

EVALUATION
The article analysis is worth 25% of the overall course grade and will be evaluated as follows:

1. Development of introduction of the article (5 points)
2. Summary of key points (5 points)
3. Critical analysis of approach/model/research (5 points)
4. Social work implications (5)
5. Quality of analysis, including APA formatting, grammar, writing, spelling (5 points)
