

IEEE-NSM

Our Motive, and Mission:

"The Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineering at the College of Natural Sciences and Mathematics (IEEE-NSM) was established to nurture the professional development of all student, staff, and faculty at the University of Houston." IEEE-NSM circa 2020

- We contribute to student professionalism by offering engineering and other NSM services to the general student body
- Let us be your One-Stop-Shop for these needs and more!
 - Need to bulk up your resume?
 - Needing flexible tutors to help with your course?
 - Wanting to gain peer mentor experience, but don't know where to start?

What We Offer:

- Hands-On Projects
 - This is the focus of our organization: Building professionalism in students
 - Offers viable opportunities to showcase experience desired by employers
 - All UGRD classifications welcome
- Free Virtual Tutoring ^{LTO}
- Virtual Resume Reviews ^{LTO}

[LTO = Limited Time Offer, lasting until pandemic's conclusion.]

Summer Plans?

- Intend to work simultaneously on two websites:
 - UH CS Resources and FAQ Webpage:
 - Eliminates need to use Discord, Groupme, etc. as a general Q&A
 - Quick reference to ALL frequently asked UH CS questions
 - Updated frequently after development
 - Inside Look at the Industry Webpage:
 - Graphs and visualizes trends in CS field
 - Collects information from UH CS student body
 - Helps newcomers navigate their major, and foster understanding of field outside of it

Fall Events and Services:

- Registration Party
- First General Meeting
 - All Majors Welcome!
- Potential Info Sessions
- Tutorial/Resume Workshops
- Projects
- STEM Projects Expo

[In light of the global health pandemic, all events are tentative. Please reach out to our Events team with any further inquiries!
