The School of Art requests that the follow courses be deleted from the Undergraduate Catalog. They are Art History courses on Native American Art. When Professor W. Jackson Rushing resigned from the University, we lost expertise in this field, and there are no plans to find replacement faculty for these courses. It is misleading to students to have these courses in the catalog since they will not be taught.

The courses are:

ARTH 2380 Introduction to North American Indian Art
content ID 292575

ARTH 3315 Native American Art 1900 to Present
content ID 289908
