v.5/10/12
The department understands that instructors will be expected to provide student work and to participate in university-wide assessments of student work. This could include, but may not be limited to, designing instruments such as rubrics, and scoring work by students in this or other courses. In addition, instructors of core courses may be asked to include brief assessment activities in their course.

Required Texts
Jacobus, Lee. A. The Bedford Introduction to Drama, 6th ed.

Course Requirements
• Students will write several shorter assignments (1-2 pages) and three longer essays (3-5 pages); longer essays will require multiple drafts.
• Students should type all assignments, and the print should be dark enough to read easily. Students are responsible for saving copies of any work turned in for grading.
• Students must turn in all assigned work to be eligible to pass the course.
• Students should turn in assigned work on time.
• Students are expected to attend class. Students with more than 6 hours of unexcused absence (4 T/Th classes, 6 in a MWF class) may be dropped for excessive absence at the instructor’s discretion; while such withdrawal is not automatic, excessive absence will affect the final grade in any case (see attendance policy under “Professionalism”). Other than religious holidays, as detailed below, only University-sponsored activities count as excused absences.
• Religious holidays may be excused if the student submits a notice to the instructor stating his or her intention in advance of the absence.
• Students are expected to do their own work. The University of Houston Academic Policies define and prohibit academic dishonesty as follows: “Academic dishonesty means employing a method or technique or engaging in conduct in an academic endeavor that the student knows or should know is not permitted by the university or a course instructor to fulfill academic requirements” (Article 3.02; see Student Handbook URL www.uh.edu/dos/hdbk for further details). The primary concern in this course is plagiarism, again defined in the Academic Honesty Policy: “Representing as one’s own work the work of another without acknowledging the source.” Plagiarism will be dealt with according to its type and severity: faulty citation of sources will be treated as a matter for teaching and revision; willful and knowing academic dishonesty will be dealt with according to University policy and can result in failure of the assignment or the course, and/or suspension from or expulsion from the University.

Grading

Course work will be weighted roughly as follows:
- Quizzes and brief in-class work: 15%
- Major Paper #1: 15%
- Major Paper #2: 15%
- Major Paper #3: 15%
- Final Exam Paper: 25%

Professionalism

Professionalism includes being on time, meeting deadlines, collaborating with your peers, and completing assigned work in groups. You must also have regular attendance, be willing to participate in all facets of classroom life, and make a sincere effort to improve your own writing and that of your peers through peer review, revision, and conferencing. After 4 absences (6 in MWF classes), your professionalism grade will become an F. In some cases, professionalism could mean the difference between one grade and the next—or, in borderline cases, between passing and failing.
