SUBJECT: Name change for Operations Management Major to Supply Chain Management

DATE: January 3, 2008

NEEDS CB APPROVAL

EFFECTIVE FALL 2008

---

The Bauer College of Business recommends to the University of Houston's Undergraduate Council that the name of the "Operations Management" major be changed to "Supply Chain Management." This is a name change and not the creation of a new major. The rationale is that the new name more accurately reflects (1) the major's course content for which students are looking, and (2) the major's title for which corporate recruiters are looking.

The Bauer College Undergraduate Curriculum Committee proposed this at the December 2006 faculty meeting; it was voted on and passed by the faculty.
